Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The above claim recites a list of hydrocarbon treatment gases to be employed which contains the term “derivatives of the aforementioned”. This term does not clearly close or define the group of gases since it is not clear what is meant by "derivatives", thereby rendering the scope of the claim unascertainable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,232,852 to Limque et al (Limque et al'852). Limque et al'852 teaches a method and apparatus for carburizing at sub-atmospheric pressures with a hydrocarbon gas supplied to a treatment chamber (11) where the “opacity” of the atmosphere in the treatment chamber is determined through the use of a sensor system and the hydrocarbon treatment gas stream is regulated based upon the detected opacity (see the claims for example) thereby showing all aspects of the above claims, since the detection of the soot mist formation cited by Limque et al'852 is the same as the opacity measurement of the instant claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Limque et al'852.

As applied to claim 1 above, Limque et al'852 shows all aspects of the above claim except the use of the specifically recited pressure level range (3-20 mbar), although Limque et al'852 does broadly encompass this pressure range (Limque et al'852 allows of and sub-atmospheric pressure). It has been well settled that where, as in the instant case, no new or unexpected result is shown to arise therefrom, motivation to select a particular narrower range within a broader range of values disclosed by the prior art as equally useful, would have been a modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made. See MPEP 2144.05. In the instant case, motivation to select any desired equally useful sub-atmospheric pressure range as the furnace pressure for Limque et al'852, including pressures between 3 and 20 mbar, would have been a modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Jurmann et al (the published patent document of the current application) is also cited.
